DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-6, drawn to a mixing tube, classified in class 366, subclass 336.
 - II. Claims 7-10, drawn to a method of making a thermoplastic mixing tube, classified in class 264, subclass 603.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions Group II and Group I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the process may be used to make a picture frame or a muffler and the product may be made of metal and glued or mechanically fastened together.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. During a telephone conversation with Stephen Burr on 10-24-2005 a provisional election was made WITH TRAVERSE to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-6. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action.

Art Unit: 1723

Claims 7-10 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37

CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fowler et al 5826981.

Fowler teaches a mixing tube including a upper frame member module 20', 80 and lower frame member 20, 80 module having an upper mixing passage module and lower mixing passage module forming plural path elements with a sectional shape that changes, and a partition member 100 with holes, see figure 8, column 11, lines 63 through column 12, line 41. The partition member is oversized from the holes to provide flange surfaces which are sandwiched between respective flange surface of the upper and lower frame member modules.

The Fowler reference discloses all of the recited subject matter as defined within the scope of the claims with the exception of having the holes upon the partition 100 disclosed as being half the size of each element. It is noted that Fowler does show a hole, but not the particular relative dimension.

Since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the size of a component of the hole upon the partition, and in light that it has been held that a change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. In re Rose, 105 USPQ 237 (CCPA 1955), it is deemed that it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the size of the holes upon the partition to a size of half the size of each element in order to better separate the flow paths so it does not intermingle when flowing across the upper and lower passage modules.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Wise 3476521.
